Partnership

Radius has been an Apple-authorized reseller since 1998, and now it is an Apple-authorized education specialist (AAES). As an AAES, we are among the few partners who are authorized to provide solutions to educational institutions. Our partnerships with Apple and other leading brands such as Samsung for mobility, Microsoft Surface, HPI, Jamf, Lenovo, and One Assist allow us to bring you the best technology in the world.

These partnerships have also provided our teams with excellent training, certifications, and expertise in implementing technology throughout organizations. In the past 25 years, we have successfully aligned with many organizations in terms of business, which has helped us gain valuable knowledge, best practices, and insights into common challenges that arise during technological transformations within organizations.
